4. In carrying out this responsibility, you will keep abreast of the work done by COMOR and the CIA Directorate of Intelligence in the field of intelligence requirements and targeting for reconnaissance. I regard it as of prime importance that the DCI be in a position at all times to comment on and take actions to correct any inadequacies of the National Reconnaissance Program, particularly in the meeting of national intelligence requirements.

5. You are also responsible for advising me on the budgetary and funding aspects of the National Reconnaissance Program. As a member of the NRO Executive Committee, the DCI will be taking an active part in the Executive Committee's consideration of the budgeting for and funding of all elements of the Program.

6. In accomplishing these tasks and to keep me fully informed, you will maintain the closest consultation with all appropriate elements of the Agency. Specifically, I want you to maintain close and continuing contact with the DD/S&T and the Office of Special Activities, the Office of Special Projects, and the Office of ELINT; with the Deputy to the DCI for National Intelligence Programs Evaluation; with the Executive Director and, through him, the Office of Planning, Programming, and Budgeting; with COMOR; with the Deputy Director for Intelligence, NPIC, and the Collection Guidance Staff; and with the Deputy Director for Plans, particularly as NRO matters relate to CIA overseas responsibilities. All such Agency elements are to be responsive to your needs for information, advice, and assistance in developing the CIA position and the coordination of relationships on NRO matters.

7. The CIA Office of Security will be responsible for recommending security policy for the NRP and for supporting the NRO as required. The Office of Security will coordinate all NRO security policy matters with the DD/S&T and with you as the Director of Reconnaissance. I shall continue to delegate my authority to grant "need-to-know" approvals involving the NRP to the DD/S&T.
